

Harmonizing: How Models Work to Support Diverse Populations

2019 Home Visiting Summit
Washington DC

NATIONAL ALLIANCE

of home visiting models

Mission of the National Alliance

To improve the health and well-being of pregnant women, young children and their parents by elevating and advancing the field of evidence-based home visiting through collaborative leadership.

Our activities include:

- ▶ legislative and local advocacy
- ▶ identifying cross-model issues that affect outcomes of interest for each model
- ▶ collaborations on research
- ▶ innovations to improve service

While each home visiting model is unique in intervention goals and approach, aspects of federal, state, and local home visiting implementation pertain to all.

Objectives for today's session

- ▶ Engage with each other
- ▶ Gain a better understanding how the diversity of families, home visitors and communities served through home visiting contribute to the complexities in delivering home visiting services
- ▶ Learn of service enhancements, cultural adaptations and family-focused efforts being used in home visiting programs
- ▶ Leave with a better understanding of the complexities that need to be held in mind when evaluating home visiting services
- ▶ Gaining your perspective

Our work...

Communities

At your tables discuss...

What community dynamics can significantly impact (for better or worse) home visiting service delivery as well as the evaluation of home visiting?

What are some service enhancements made based on unique community needs?

At your tables discuss...

How do the individual differences of home visitors, along with the differences between home visitors and families, potentially impact program implementation and evaluation?

How does the tension between wanting to “just work with families” and having increased data burden impact services to families?

What strategies can support achievement of consistent outcomes across staff?

Families involved in home visiting

At your tables discuss...

How does variability in family characteristics complicate service delivery and program evaluation?

How do we as program staff or as evaluators best support and account for the unique differences of families within the same program?

How might precision home visiting guide our service delivery at the family level?
